Federally funded with LSTA funds through the Massachusetts Board of Library Commissioners

This yearbook is filled with the memories the Class of 1993 has made together. Although our past is gathered on these pages, our futures are unknown. Fortunately, as students of West Bridgewater High School, we have been offered the knowledge and wisdom that will help us to finish crossing the bridge to our new lives. We have the confidence to move on, knowing our teachers, our friends, and our families have prepared us for the next steps to come.

1993 DEDICATEE

Many, many years ago,
In Albany, New York,
Fantastic joy and happiness,
Was brought by Mr. Stork.

The Weintraub folks were all agog,
To welcome their first son.
The name decreed was Alan,
He'd bring both pride and fun.

He grew in size and mental strength,
Abilities were great.
In every sport invented, he
Was known throughout the state.

Through Little League and Babe Ruth League,
And high school sports as well,
He not only competed,
But managed to excel.

For all that he accomplished,
He never shunned his learning.
He always studied very hard,
Resulting in his earning

A scholar's reputation and
A name for propriety,
Unanimously elected to the National Honor Society.

He continued on to U. R. I.,
That bastion of higher learning.
T'was there that he discovered,
A fierce desire burning.

To work with high school students,
To guide, to coach, to teach,
And oftentimes, if needed,
He'd even try to preach.

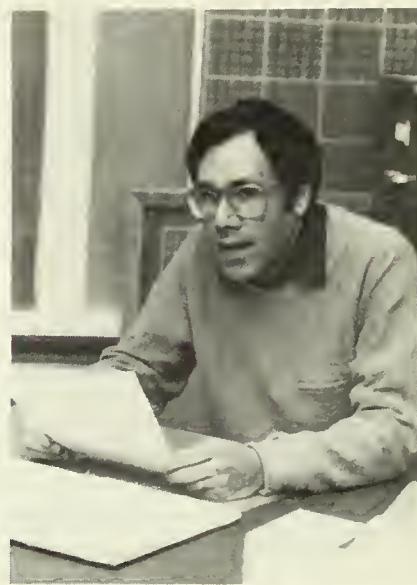

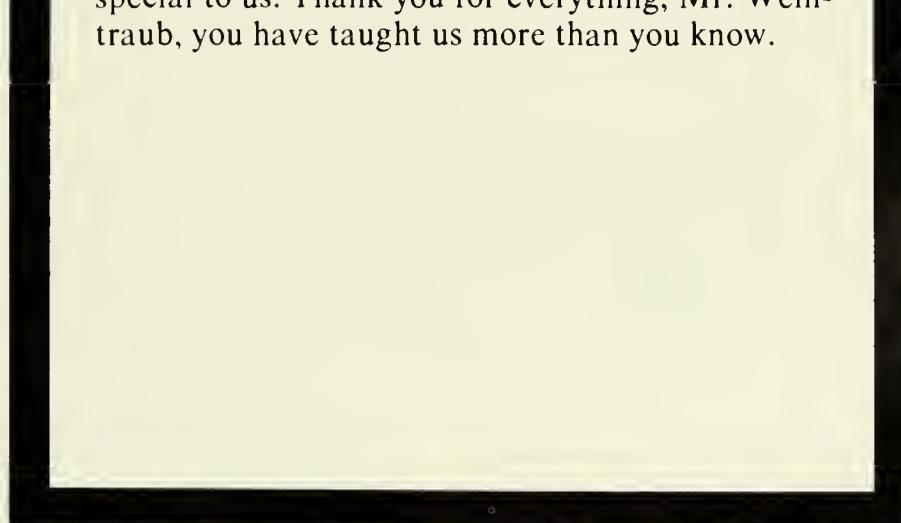

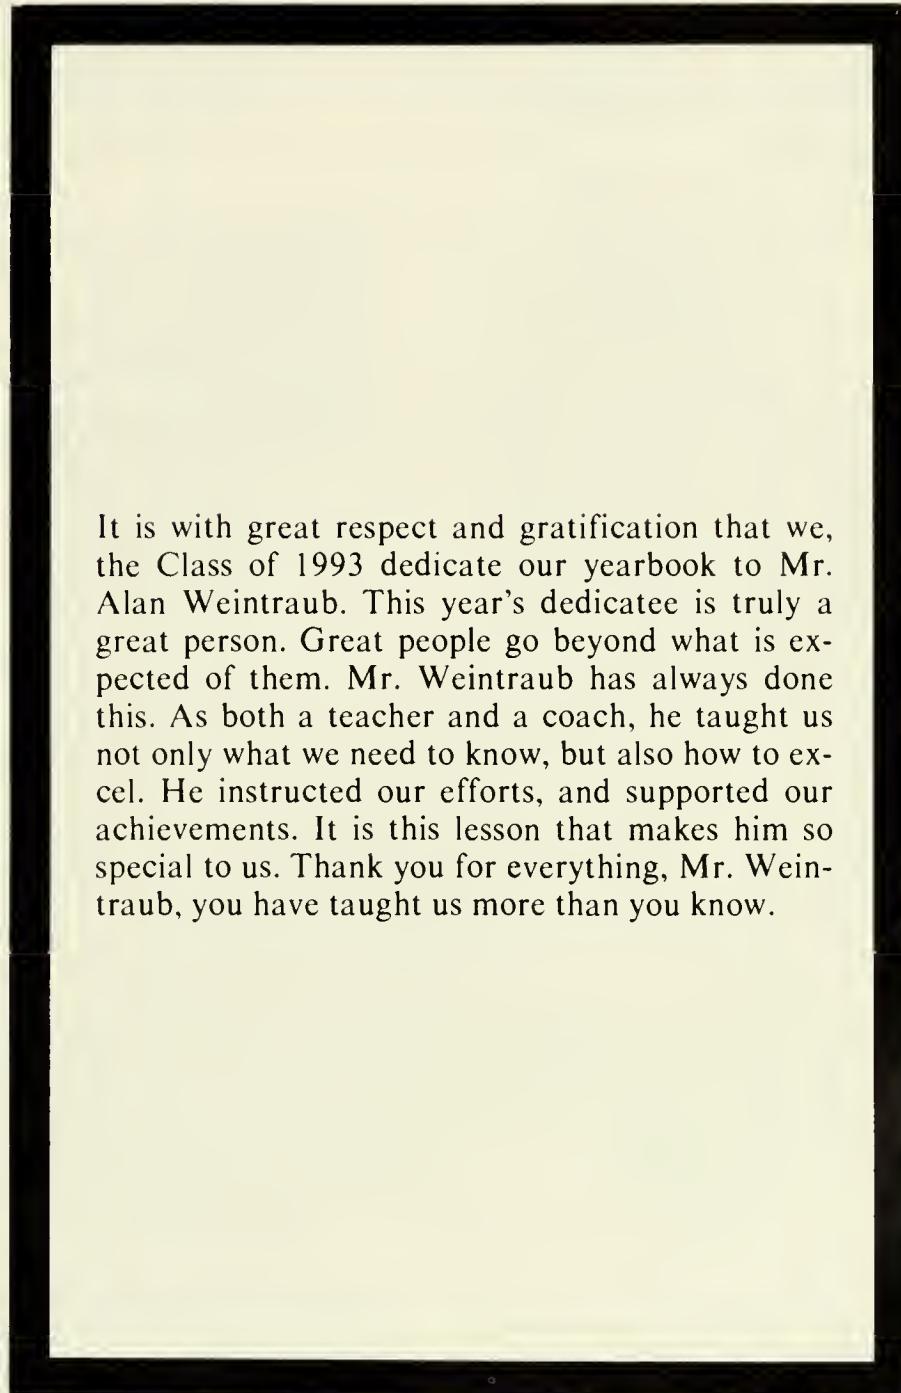

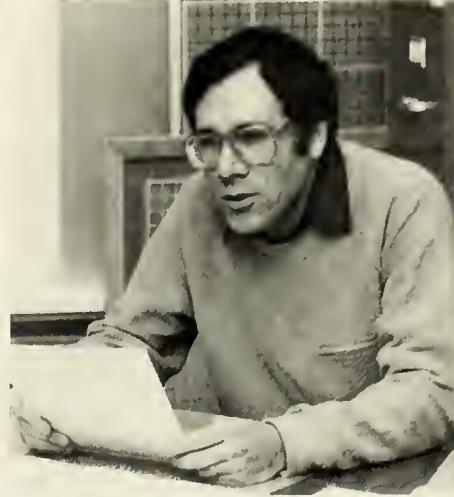

So this is how he came to be,
A teacher here at school,
To educate in high school math,
And teach the Golden Rule.

But let's go back about ten years,
His life began anew,
For that is when he met his wife,
Her name is Ellen Sue.

Then, in due time, there came a child,
They named Rachael Melissa,
A beautiful, wonderful special girl,
So sweet you'd want to kissa.

Right Now...

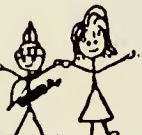

Right now, causing a dangling participle.

Right now, an incomplete sentence.

Right now, the Wonder Twin powers are activating.

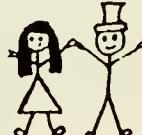

Right now, somewhere, somehow a pack of wolves are looting an elderly lady's living room furniture.

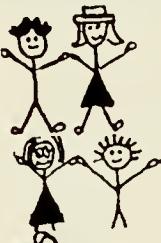

Right now, is the first day for the beginning of the last days in which time will be spent ever hearing the old first days in their end.

Right now, a candy making factory is being overrun by a herd of laboratory rats.

Right now, a cat is discovering what the inside of a microwave is like.

Right now, a printing press is attacking an unsuspecting laborer.

Right now, a roaming team of accountants are plowing

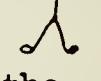

a field in southeast Nebraska.

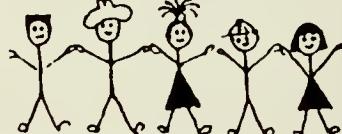

Right now, Team Maaco strikes again.

Right now, eighteen soothsayers are conducting a survey in your nearby mall.

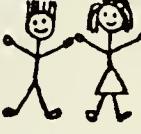

Right now, you are reading the words "Right now", you are reading the words "Right now", you are reading the words "Right now"...

Right now, there are starving people who would perform musical versions of "The Grapes of Wrath" in Chinese with German accents just to be able to lick the plates you couldn't get clean no matter how many times you put that stupid thing in the dishwasher.

Right now, people are dying just to cease living.

Right now, the world order is changing faster than we can...wait, no it's not...

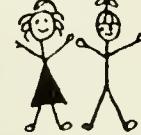

oops, yes it is...oh, there it... ah, forget it.

Right now, a truck driver is disgusted with his uncooked chicken tenders which came with Sweet and Sour sauce.

Right now, Belinda Carlisle is flipping burgers at Wendy's, while the rest of the Go Go's sell insurance.

Right now, could be the perfect time to do that, if it had not already been this, which should have been there with those which were over there before that saw this over there doing this and that with them.

Congratulations on your graduation from West Bridgewater High School. Of your nearly two decades of life, thirteen were spent in school. During this time, you searched to find meaning and truth. I trust school helped you discover who you really are and what you can do.

I challenge you to continue to learn, to serve, and to make the most of your opportunities. As the shadow of time lengthens over your life, remember to keep a special place in your heart for the love, learning, and guidance you received at West Bridgewater. My best wishes for a bright future.

To the Members of the Class of 1993
Dear Members:

Congratulations to you the members of the Class of 1993 for successfully meeting the academic and social criteria that qualify you for graduation. The events of the last few years both in our democratic society and on a global dimension have signaled profound historical changes which provide a challenge and an unparalleled opportunity for you. Hopefully you have acquired a repertoire of knowledge and skills needed by courageous and visionary individuals to compete effectively in a changing world. Presently, there is growing concern on how to cope with the challenges presented by our changing society, especially considering our declining resources and the lack of confidence in individuals in leadership positions. As people's lives are being disrupted and a pessimistic mood seems to prevail, we look to you to be more creative, imaginative, reform-minded, and innovative in problem solving so as to preserve the values and ideals considered important to the success of a divergent people. Seize the opportunity to become productive and responsible members of society. Thank you for your many contributions to West Bridgewater Junior-Senior High School. I join your parents, teachers, and classmates in wishing you a life filled with success, happiness, and good health.

Sincerely yours,

S. Erick Benson

DEAN OF STUDENTS

ROBERT W. CHAPMAN

To the Class of 1993 - Congratulations!

“ “The good life and the happy life go hand in hand. I would like to quote something from a Roman poet named Martial. “To have lived so as to look back with pleasure on your past life is to live twice.”

Each of us is continually filling his own picture gallery with memories. Every day we paint and hang a few pictures of what we did and said. And these are the pictures we have to look at. We control the happiness or the unhappiness of our own later years by the pictures we hang in our art gallery of memories.

No day is a thing in itself, having a beginning and an ending and then passing out of existence. But each day has a floor made of all the days that went before it, and each day is part of every day that follows.” Harold J. Drown

May you have many warm memories of your days at West Bridgewater High School and may these experiences lead to a bright and successful future. I wish you much happiness!

S. ERICK BENSON

To The Class of 1993

As you approach the 21st Century, amidst a flurry of societal issues, the need for positive thinking, wisdom, and confidence is paramount. It is important that you lift your mind to a higher level, and continue to learn from your experiences, and your mistakes. Learning is a continuous process, and must be carried on throughout life if you hope to keep pace with society.

Hopefully, your academic and social experiences here at West Bridgewater High School will assist you in attaining your desired goals, and the quest for happiness.

Congratulations on what you have achieved, and BEST WISHES for all your future endeavors!

I keep telling myself everything happens for the best, things can't get any worse, well, they do! When will you people wake up, open your eyes, look around, people right here are homeless, unemployed, sick, or even lonely. Just turn your head, hope they go away and leave you alone. You just don't care. How about your plant, then why don't you do something right here. Air pollution, ozone concerns, acid rain, water diversion, toxic waste, radiation perils, species extinction, fisheries depletion, or deforestation. Does anyone really care or are you going to turn your head on the this one too? Help before it's too late. Recycle, it's a start!

Biography: Our generation, our class, our friends, and ourselves compose the future to be molded and shaped. We are the future - it is ours to do with as we wish. Let's take our newly acquired knowledge, and instead of continuing to patch the ruts, let's repave the way.

Wow - why is it that fourth grade is so clear, but the last seven years are such a blur? Cat, without you, I wouldn't have made it where I am. Jill, you've been my backbone for so long - thank you. Fred, we will meet again, and things will be right. Jeremy, you made me laugh and feel special so many times that you've left me forever indebted. Jeff, no you cannot color my hair, I FSH! But thank-you.

We had fun, didn't we?

ADVICE TO UNDERCLASSMEN

Don't get a car without a defogger.

Don't be like Greg Bourne.

Don't pick your nose.

Glass people in stones shouldn't throw houses.

Before you shave your legs, always look twice at the fluffy deer cantering down the primrose path.

Let everyone who you care about know that you love them.

Respect the seniors; you may be one someday.

Take the road less travelled by.

Don't take Physics!!!

Always say no to the advances of a charging buffalo.

Read Newsweek!

Watch that first step—it's a lulu

I'll protect your Life, but not your money or your wife.

Be yourself and not someone else.

Just go to school, try and have fun, but don't make a big deal out of it; when you try to act tough, you only look stupid.

Cooperate and graduate.

Don't be fooled by all the cruelty rushing by, it's a mere ploy of your mind.

Don't believe everything you hear about Ms. Marber.

Live each day, like it's your last, for there may be NO tomorrow.

Never go camping without your electric blanket.

In order to succeed you must have the inner desire to push yourself.

Fear causes hesitation; hesitation causes your worst fear to come true.

In a race between a pig and a rock, don't polish your clams.

Don't trust the establishment, fight authority.

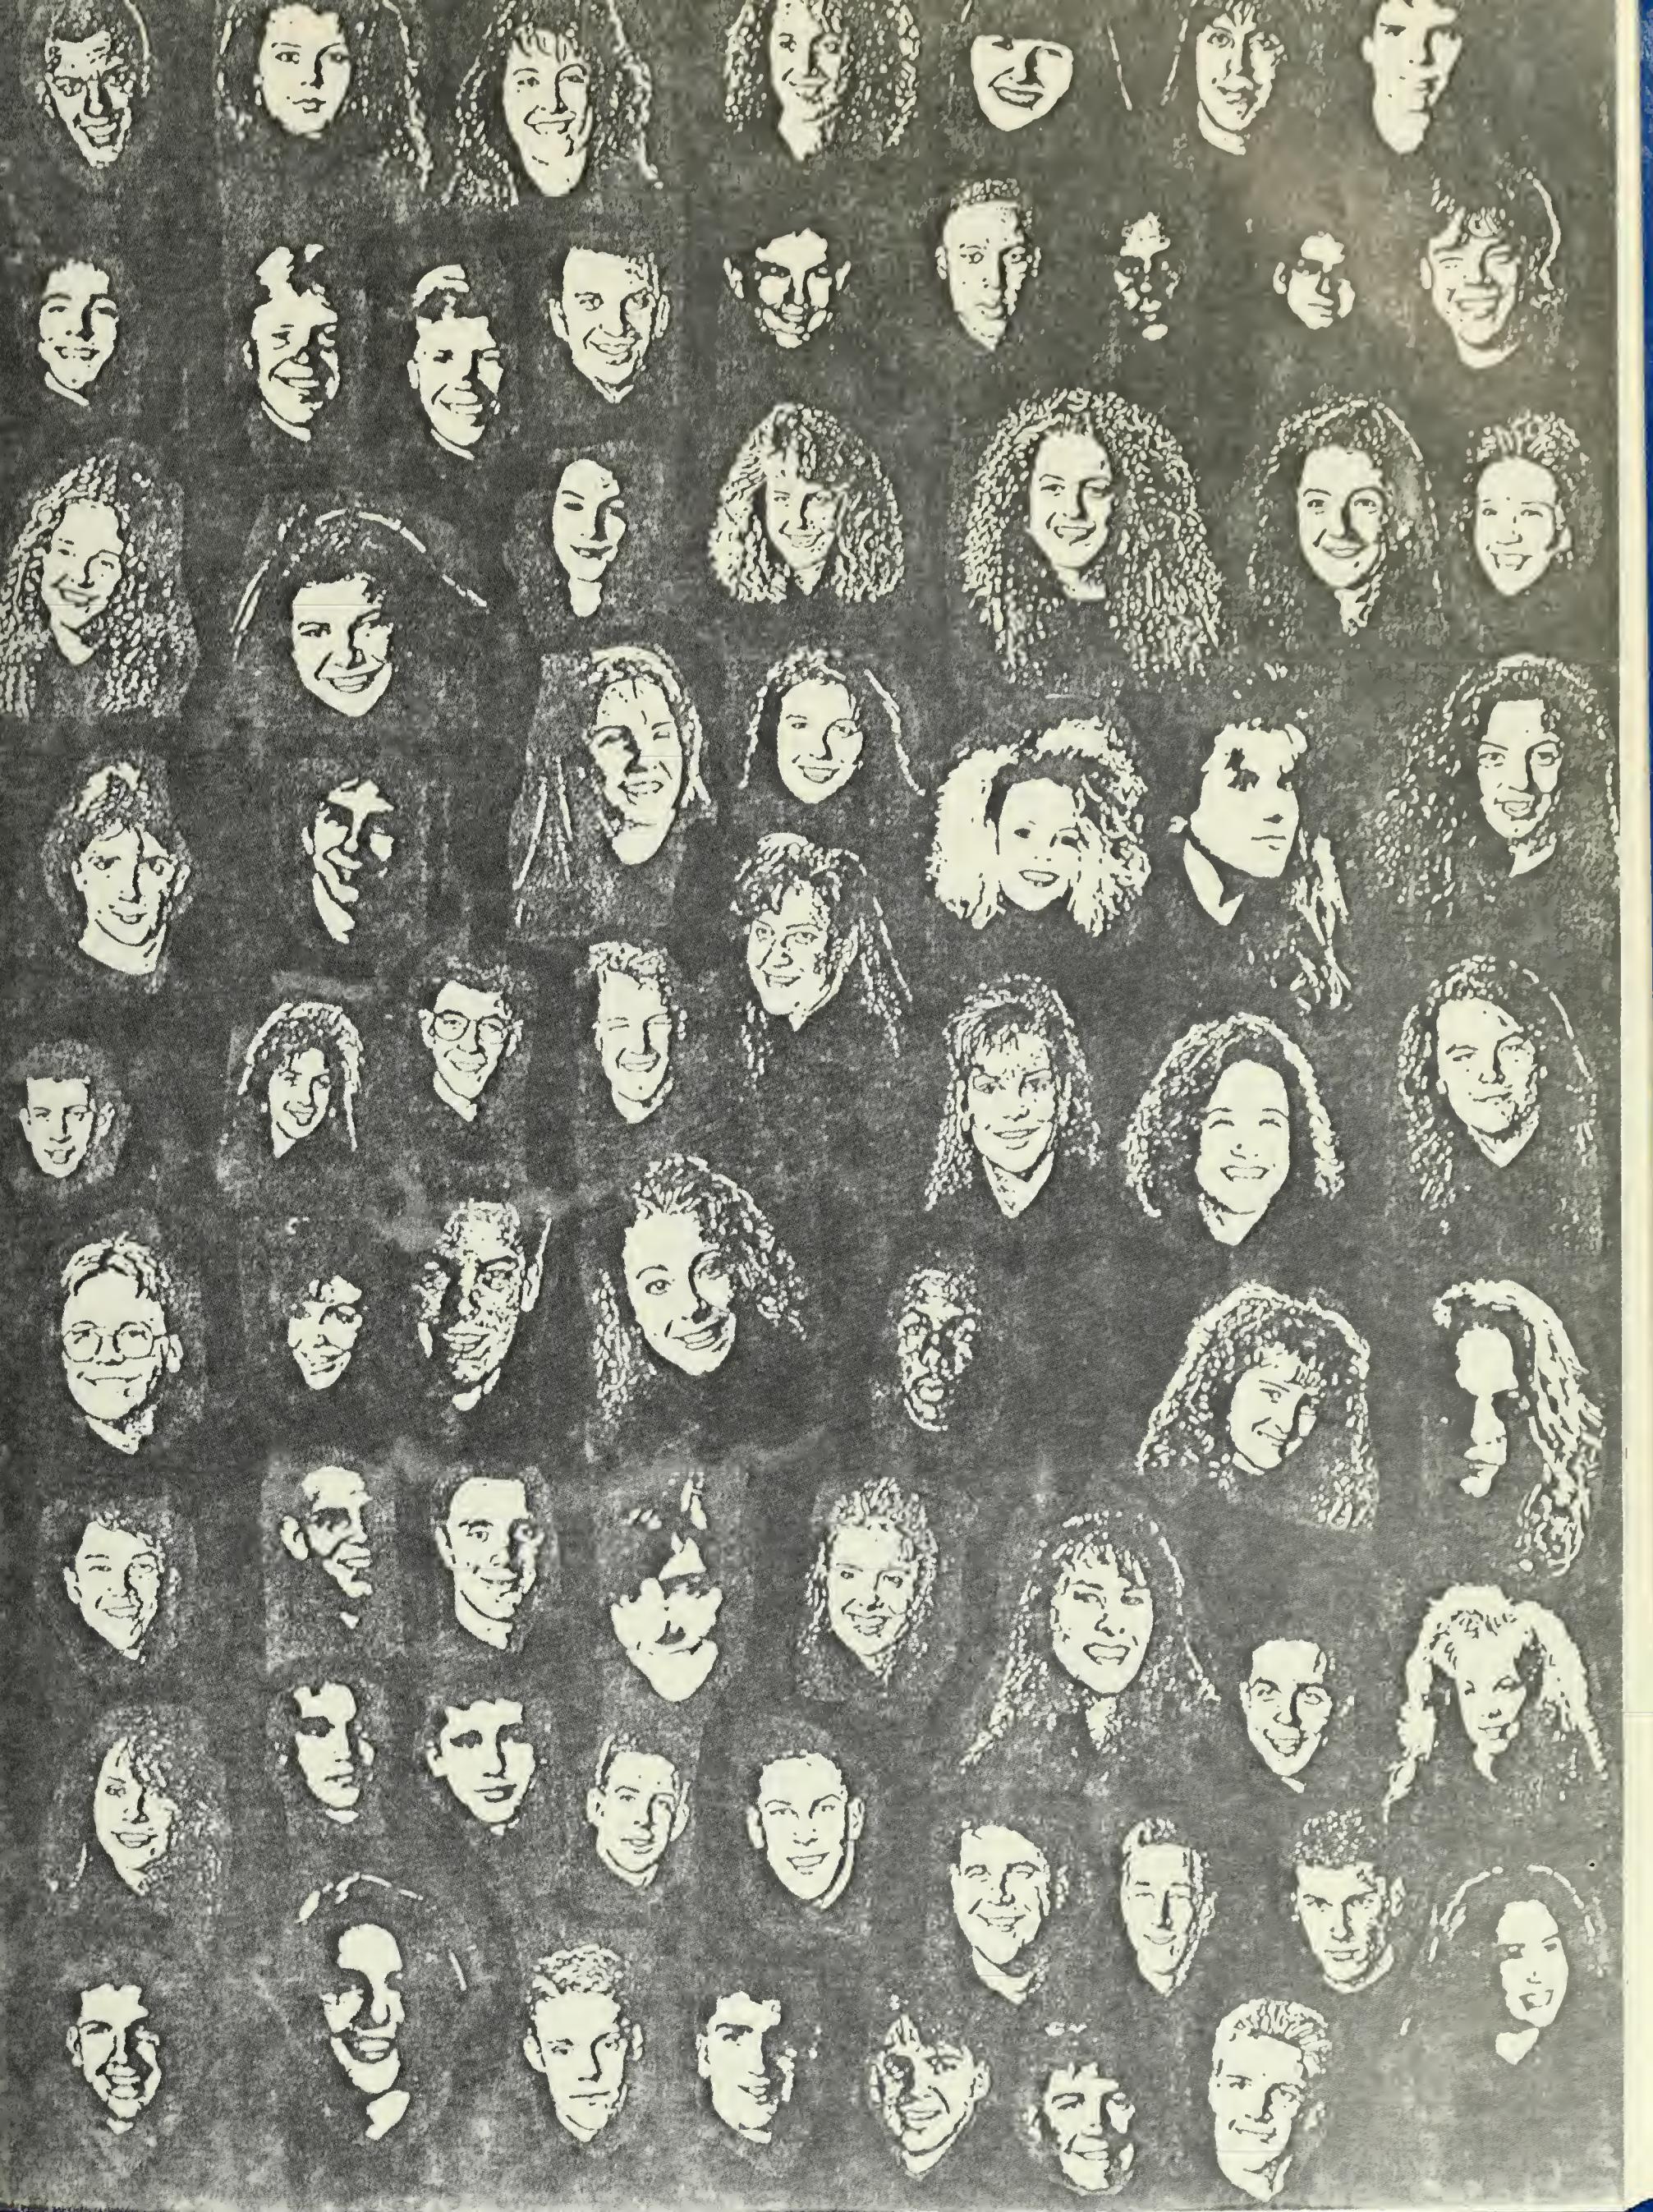

Don't go out in rain without a raincoat.

Women Strike Back

good ole boy

2003 . . .

I, Chris Peckham, see myself in 10 years as a small adobe brick house who feeds solely on fictional, paper back books.

I, Doug Salvador, see myself in 10 years as a small but handsome reptile who feeds on Q-tips and ceramic statues.

I, Kevin O'Neil, see myself in 10 years as a trial size bottle of carpet cleaner who feeds on albino laboratory cats.

I, Angie Stull, see myself in 10 years as being 27 years old.

I, Jeremy Winchell, see myself in 10 years. If not I'm blind or dead.

I, Jeff Ross, see myself in 10 years worshiping the pachyderm populations of Mozambique & Zimbabwe.

I, Traci Chamberlain, see myself in 10 years married with twins named Ren & Stimpy.

I, Jill Metcalf, see myself in 10 years with two pet pigs named Prudence and Hector.

I, Nicole Schmeer, see myself in 10 years selling matches.

I, Heather Kenrick, see myself in 10 years buying matches from Nicole.

I, Jessica Smith, see myself in 10 years stealing matches from Heather.

I, Dawn Dearing, see myself in 10 years apprehending Jessica who stole Heather's matches that she bought from Nicole.

I, Cathy Hobbs, see myself in 10 years as a match that will set my friends on fire!

I, Ryan Byrnes, see myself in 10 years anywhere but West Bridgewater.

I, Mark Kwan, see myself in 10 years designing world famous golf courses.

I, Tracy Andrews, see myself in 10 years as the first human globe.

I, Kevin Bryce Kelley, see myself catching snowflakes on my tongue.

I, Tim Santry, see myself in 10 years as All-powerful Master of the Universe, but ultimately I'd like to direct.

I, Sean Bastis, see myself in 10 years as the wealthiest man alive but too old to enjoy it.

I, Alex Cacchione, see myself in 10 years as being the best hockey player.

I, Shawn Anderson, see myself in 10 years being married and having my own business.

I, Dan Larson, see myself in 10 years as 27 years old.

I, Stephanie Torres, see myself in 10 years married to Toby and living happily with Gaige.

I, Pam Liverett, see myself in 10 years married to Rob with 2 kids.

I, Norm Peterson, see myself in 10 years sitting at a bar stool, eating pretzels.

I, Michael J. McLaughlin, see myself in 10 years in a mirror.

I, Jim Wood, see myself in 10 years breathing!

I, Rachael Barry, see myself in 10 years better looking than my father!

I, Geoff Brearley, see myself in 10 years lost on Blue Hills.

I, Dan Edwards, see myself in 10 years as an egotistical maniac searching for success.

I, Kerri Mathews, see myself in 10 years working in New York City selling my watches.

I, Darren Kilpatrick, see myself in 10 years as an assistant golf coach to the all-mighty Steve Barrett.

I, Brian Anderson, see myself in 10 years Alive!

I, Kevin Neeley, see myself in 10 years riding off into the sunset on camel-back.

I, Jenna Menton, see myself in 10 years selling my thyroid gland to buy the microfilm that will expose the entire feminine products industry.

I, Chris Midurski, see myself in 10 years emptying my pockets at the dog track.

I, Joshua Seaman, see myself in 10 years still trying to get Rachael back!

I, Craig Bousquet, see myself in 10 years as a female!

I, Carlos Llerena, see myself in 10 years in a jail cell.

I, Tristan Klok, see myself in 10 years looking at the ceiling.

For the first time in the history of West Bridgewater athletics a team made it to the Division 2 South Section finals. The close-knit Varsity team consisting of 6 seniors, 7 juniors, and 1 sophomore, finished its season with a 19-1-3 record. The seniors would like to thank the coaching staff for their support and encouragement. We'd also like to thank the entire team for making the 1992 season so memorable. (Harwich!)

VARSITY BASKETBALL CHEERLEADERS

Kristin Regan

Every coach dreams of having players who can make a difference every time they enter a game.

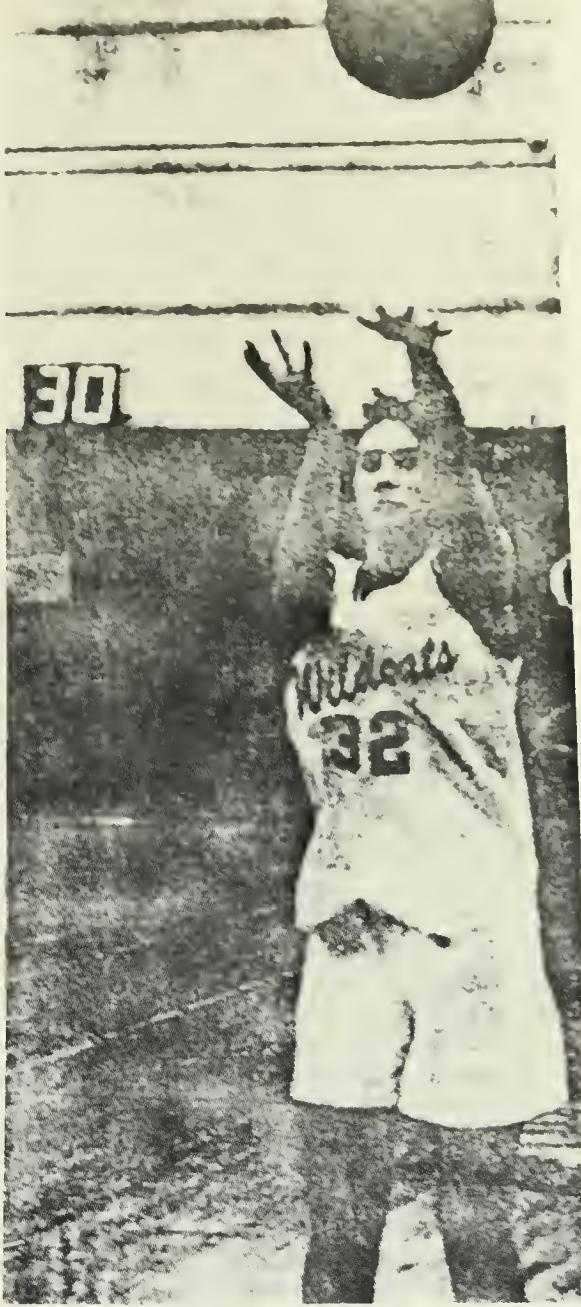

At West Bridgewater High, three coaches — Steve Barrett, Pat Cunniff and, as of last year, Dale Peterson — have been able to see their dreams come true with a young lady by the name of Kristin Regan.

Regan not only is a starter in basketball, field hockey and softball, but is also the dominating player on each of those teams and, as a junior, managed a trifecta of Enterprise All-Scholastic teams.

Basketball, however, is Regan's favorite among the three sports and it is that sport that she hopes to continue to play after graduation.

West Bridgewater's Kristin Regan tosses up her 1,000th point from the foul line in the second half of Friday night's game.

Regan hits 1,000-point milestone

By Dick Roche
ENTERPRISE CORRESPONDENT

WEST BRIDGEWATER — Reaching a milestone is not always easy, just ask Kristin Regan of West Bridgewater High School.

Regan went into Friday night's Mayflower League game against Blue Hills needing 27 points for 1,000 in her career.

It took her more than over 24 minutes, until there was 7:28 left in the game to be exact, but the West Bridgewater senior captain finally reached the magical milestone, notching her 27th point in the Wildcats' 76-30 win over the Warriors.

Regan, who left the game shortly after becoming the third West Bridgewater girl to reach the 1,000-point plateau, admitted to a case of the butterflies before the game and early on.

"Yeah, just a little," Regan said. "I wanted to do it at home and in front of everybody (fans and parents) who have been supportive of me for so long. We have three games in a row coming up on the road, so today was a big game. My mind was on it (1,000 points) since I woke up this morning."

GOLDEN HELMET

Edwards can run but he can't hide

Mike Tormey
ENTERPRISE CORRESPONDENT

WEST BRIDGEWATER — There have been many outstanding area high school running backs dominating the headlines this season, but a running back from a small school just down Route 24 has quietly put together a headline season all his own.

Danny Edwards leads the West Bridgewater Wildcats into their second consecutive Div. 6B Super Bowl matchup today against Marian High School in Framingham.

Edwards has been a workhorse for the Wildcats this season, gaining 1,165 yards and scoring 13 touchdowns in the Wildcats' 6-4 season. However, Edwards is also quick to point out that the Wildcats are not a one-man team.

"Everybody does their part and everybody has a key role to play," said Edwards. "The line works hard in games and I just try to do my part and help the team."

Edwards is a goal-oriented young man. When he sets a goal, he is willing to pay the price in order to reach it, both on and off of the football field.

"I have set goals and attained those goals," said Edwards. "I'll do whatever it takes."

That kind of attitude has been responsible for Edwards' success.

In his first two years of high school, Edwards did whatever was asked of him, mostly on defense. Last year, his role was mainly to block for senior backfield partner David Rix. Although he did his job well, he went unnoticed until the Super Bowl where he scored two touchdowns and ran in the game-winning two-point conversion.

Danny Edwards has shouldered a heavy load this season.
